

bP Corporate Finance: we promote your talent!

We are an M&A boutique specialised in providing advisory services in M&A transactions to entrepreneurs, companies and institutional investors with business activities in Italy and abroad. Our team is composed of professionals with an entrepreneurial spirit, strategic vision and consolidated skills in corporate finance.

For our Milan office, we are looking for a graduate or grad student to join our Corporate Finance Advisory team for a 6 (six) month internship.

JUNIOR ANALYST (m/f)

The Role

The role is aimed at training an M&A Analyst. You will be involved in ongoing transactions, as well as activities preparatory to the acquisition of new assignments. The main activities will be:

- market analysis (in particular: gathering information on companies, market research and in-depth analysis of certain sectors, analysis of market multiples and comparable transactions, identification of sector betas and analysis of the main rates used);
- financial statement analysis - valuations (from financial statement reclassification to company valuation using the main valuation criteria, SWOT analysis, business plan drafting);
- drafting of pitch books, information memoranda, blind profiles and other documentation relating to M&A transactions;
- support in due diligence activities related to ongoing M&A transactions;

assistance to senior professionals in meetings with their clients.

What you should have

- Master's degree in economics, finance (expected graduation date no later than June 2025);
- Fluent knowledge of the Italian and the English language, both written and spoken;
- Excellent communication and interpersonal skills, with a flair for teamwork;
- Full command of IT tools, in particular MS Excel and PowerPoint;
- Proactivity, curiosity and attention to accuracy;
- Strong analytical and quantitative skills; Internship experience in Corporate Finance or Investment Banking will be considered a plus.

Why bP Corporate Finance?

We are part of the bureau Plattner group, an interdisciplinary tax and legal firm covering a full range of services. Therefore, we are able to offer you a suitable platform to shape your professional and specialisation path, all in a dynamic and constantly growing environment.

You will be able to develop your skills in a positive environment, where the right balance between a convivial atmosphere, professionalism, motivation and attention to the needs of employees/professionals is considered paramount.

Flat organization, transparency, mutual respect and appreciation have always characterised our corporate culture.

Applications can be sent to info@bp-corporatefinance.com, attaching a letter of motivation.